Freedom News You Can Use

A Christmas Offering

Presented by Freedom Christian Academy

Thursday, December 17, at 6:30 p.m.

Students will wear white Freedom shirts and navy pants.

Special points of interest:

- January tuition will be past due when we return to school after Christmas break. Please send your payment by mail, or plan to pay on January 4 or 5. You may prefer to leave a check in the office this week to be deposited on January 4.
- Please review the dress code in your handbook. Students should wear only Freedom shirts and navy or khaki bottoms (twill or corduroy—not knit). Tights should be neutral tones only. Belts are required, except for K3 and K4, when pants have belt loops. If your child is cold in short sleeves, please order a sweatshirt when we take orders again after Christmas break.
- If you have helped at Freedom any time this year, please make sure your time is logged in the volunteer book so you can receive credit for Christian hours of service.

Reminders

Students will be dismissed at 11:00 a.m. this Friday. After school care will be provided; the cost is $10 and includes lunch.

Each family is asked to sell five "Red, White, and Blueberry" cookbooks to benefit the academy. If you haven't sold/bought any yet, please plan to get yours after the Christmas celebration tomorrow night. If you have cookbook money, please turn it in to the academy office this week.

After school care fees need to be paid in full before the end of the month. If you have a bill in today's folder, please send payment tomorrow.

Freedom Christian Academy gratefully acknowledges the following gifts:

Odis Cavin in honor of Josiah Hinkle

William E. Lee in honor of Lily Bacon

Charles Spears in honor of Phoebe Johnson

Richard and Linda Heisser in honor of Andrea Fussaro
